Classical Japanese Language

Professor Bjarke Frellesvig, Professor of Japanese Linguistics, Faculty of Oriental Studies

Dr Jennifer Guest, Associate Professor in Classical Japanese Literature, Faculty of Oriental Studies

This course begins in Michaelmas Term and continues until partway through Trinity Term.

Lecture/translation class: MT/HT/TT Monday 9am, HT/TT Friday 9am

Prerequisites: Modern Japanese at level 2 or higher

Course description:

This course offers an intensive year-long introduction to classical Japanese language for those with little or no prior background, beginning with an overview of classical Japanese grammar and continuing with readings from the Hōjōki, Essays in Idleness, the Pillow Book, and a range of other well-known early and medieval works.

Teaching will be in the form of weekly text translation classes throughout MT, HT, and four weeks of TT, with additional weekly classes in unprepared classical translation in HT (8 hours) and TT (4 hours). (Students should take note that since this is a language course aiming to give them reading proficiency in classical Japanese, the teaching format is different from that of essay-based options).

Course Assessment:

The main assessment will be through a three-hour examination in Trinity Term.
